ERDICARI'S CASE.

Seizure of the American Was Made to Bring Pressure on the Sultan.

ABLEGRAM FROM ADM. CHADWICK

o Instructions Will Be Sent to the Admiral by the State Department at Present.

It Is Feared An Attack on Tangier or Expedition Against Brigands Will Be Followed By the Murder of the Captives.

Washington, June 1.—This cablegram has been received at the navy department from Rr. Adm. Chadwick, commanding the South Atlantic squadron at Tangier:

"The seizure of the American citizen was by insurgent chief, so as to bring pressure on the sultan of Morocco to secure the demands of the tribe. Our sense of the gravity of the case is shown by the presence of the American squadron and will undoubtedly cause the earlier yielding by the sultan of Morocco to the demands of the chief, which is the only safe means of releasing the captive."

There is the highest authority for the statement that an attack on Tangier or an expedition against the brigands will be followed by the immediate murder of the captives.

At the instance of Secretary Hay no instructions will be sent Rr. Adm. Chadwick for the present, pending the result of the representations of Ambassador Porter at Paris to the French government requesting the exercise of the good offices in obtaining the release of the captives.

Paris, June 1.—American officials are hopeful that French influence with the Moroccan government, together with the presence of the American fleet at Tangier, will secure an adjustment of the affairs. Reports through French official channels show that Raisuli's demand for ransom is $70,000.

The Americans view is that if the ransom should be paid through the family of Percidaris, Raisuli could be dealt with subsequently and the money restored to the family, but French officials who are familiar with the situation in Morocco are less sanguine of a settlement owing to claims that Raisuli has put forward which threaten to raise political and international entanglements. According to information reaching the foreign office he requires the sultan to give him a subordinate kingdom with the right to levy taxes throughout a region embracing 38 square kilometers lying directly along the main route from Tangier to Fez. Officials say Raisuli would thereby become one of the dominant political factors in Morocco.

Moreover Raisuli's demand that he may levy taxes on travelers on the main route to the capital is considered untenable. Reports received show that the sultan is ready to pay the ransom but that he is unwilling to yield to the political ambitions of Raisuli. However, the French minister at Tangier secured the release of a Frenchman held under similar circumstances by enlisting the influence of chiefs of tribes and the Sherifian authorities and hopes that similar influences will prevail now.

The French authorities are not likely to view favorably the seizure of a port of landing of American marines, being of the opinion that the Monroe doctrine should cut both ways. It is also pointed out that an expedition inland would be wholly impracticable owing to topographical and material considerations.

A SHAM BATTLE.

A Brigade of Midshipmen Divided Against Itself.

Annapolis, Md., June 1.—The brigade of midshipmen was divided against itself Tuesday and for three quarters of an hour the two battalions fought for possession of the old armory building in a sham battle. Among those who watched the battle were the members of the board of visitors.

THE SNELL MURDER

The Alleged Slayer of the Chicago Millionaire Dies in the Alaskan Wilderness.

TASCOTT, THE LONG SOUGHT MAN.

At One Time Rewards Aggregating About $20,000 Was Offered For the Fugitive's Apprehension.

He Was Tortured to Death By Thinking of His Life and Belief That He Was the Object of Pursuit.

Chicago, June 1.—A special from Victoria, B. C., says: If the voluntary declaration of a dying man is to be believed, Snell has been written to the historic Snell tragedy of 15 years ago, and Tascott, the long-sought murderer, self-identified, has paid the penalty of his crime with penitence and now fills an unmarked grave in the heart of the Alaskan wilderness, whither he had fled for the effacement of his individuality.

Philip Robertson, a strictly reliable man, prospector and miner, received the dying man's confession, and tells the story simply and dramatically. Robertson left the Klondike capital late last fall in a small boat bound for the new placer grounds at Fairbanks. He reached a point near Dahl river in a particularly desolate and forbidding region when the forlorn wailing of a dog surprised his ears. He found the dog, a half-starved shepherd, seemingly in much distress. Following this animal Robertson was brought to a seemingly deserted cabin some 400 yards above the river concealed in a clump of spruce.

"I ventured to the door of the shack and knocked," says Robertson, "and there was a feeble 'come in.' All was darkness inside and there was no sign of a fire. I caught sight of a bit of candle, which I lighted and then advanced to where a man lay.

"With a feeble effort he turned and stared at me for a full minute. Then he said: 'Are you an officer?' No, I said. I am a miner and if there is anything I can do for you I want to do it. I soon had a fire going and again approached the bed. The man's hair was white as snow, his face had a livid color in it that looked like death and he had the most terrible and hopeless expression I have ever seen on a human being.

"I'm Going Where I Belong."

"Partner," he said, finally rolling over on his side and little more than whispering, 'I'm leaving a world that I did not appreciate. I'm going to where I belong.'

"He lapsed into silence again and what I thought was a sleep came over him. Two hours passed and he suddenly awakened with a shriek and then sank back in bed. In a few minutes he gave another wild scream and straightened up in bed. Then in a voice you would think came from a good, strong man, he said:

"See here, boys, my name is Tascott. I'm Tascott. Do you understand. I'm Tascott that they've been hunting like a wolf for years. I can not run any more. I'm getting paid for what I did. I know I'm dying and I know where I'll go. Tell the boys when they come back that I am Tascott and you can tell the world, too, for the world has hunted me a long time."

"About 3 in the morning I heard a noise like a man expelling all the air from his lungs. I rushed over to the bed and felt the man's pulse and heart. He was dead.

"I have never told about this until now, but that dead man asked me to make his story public, and so I do so. I solemnly believe that he was tortured to death by thinking of his own life and the belief that he was always the object of pursuit, and I assuredly believe he told the truth in saying he was Tascott."

Story of the Crime.

Chicago, June 1.—Amos J. Snell, wealthy holder of much property on the west side of Chicago, was murdered at his home in Washington boulevard on the night of February 8, 1888, and robbery was declared to be the motive, although by many it then was, and still is believed that the burglary was concocted. However, after many arrests the police hit upon the "Willie Tascott" crew. Tascott had been an elevator boy at the Palmer house. It was represented that he had been employed by day and committed robberies at night.

Heavy rewards—one for $10,000, which was subsequently raised to $20,000, were offered for Tascott and for two or three years Tascott was turning up dead or alive in all parts of North and South America.

Eventually Mrs. Snell withdrew the reward for Tascott, quarrels, civil suits and other scandals followed among members of the family and to-day the Snell millions are supposed to have been dissipated in part and passed in to other hands.

IN THE TOMB.

All That Is Mortal of Senator Quay Buried at Beaver, Pa.

Beaver, Pa., June 1.—All that is mortal of Senator Mathew Stanley Quay was carried to the little burial plot in Beaver cemetery Tuesday afternoon and buried beside the bodies of his children. The services were as simple as it was possible to make them, as the dead statesman had requested. But the presence of the executive head of the commonwealth which he had helped to make great, of representatives of the high lawmaking body in which had played so prominent a part, and of the national government lent to the services an air of pomp that could not be prevented. Beaver was crowded with prominent men. Nearly all of them were personal acquaintances and friends of the deceased senator. Nearly all had known him in life and had witnessed those displays of political acumen and generalship which stamped him as one of the leaders of his age. It was a representative gathering. Not all were politicians. There were his business associates and men from all walks of life, each anxious to show his meed of respect to those virtues of the dead senator that can not be denied.

St. Louis, June 1.—All festivities planned for the next few days at the Pennsylvania state building at the World's fair grounds were cancelled Tuesday. The doorways of the building have also been draped in crepe, in mourning for the late Senator Mathew Stanley Quay, of Pennsylvania.

Speyer, a circus performer, who killed his young son in a tent at Kansas City in 1902 by cutting its throat with a knife, and who was found guilty and sentenced to 20 years in the penitentiary, was granted a new trial Wednesday on a technicality. Speyer had been accused of assaulting a young girl and when threatened by a crowd, he killed the boy, believing, as he said afterward, that he would be lynched and not desiring the child to live alone. Speyer's wife lives at New Orleans.

The engagement resulted in the Russians retiring on Simatsi followed cautiously by Japanese detachments.

St. Louis, June 1.—All festivities planned for the next few days at the Pennsylvania state building at the World's fair grounds were cancelled Tuesday. The doorways of the building have also been draped in crepe, in mourning for the late Senator Mathew Stanley Quay, of Pennsylvania.

Severe fighting is reported along the railroad between stations Vfangoy and Vfangion. The Japanese suffered heavily and would have been annihilated had not infantry reserves come up and forced the Russians to retire into Warsaw.

Che Foo, June 1.—An unconfirmed rumor is current among the Chinese that a battle occurred six miles from Port Arthur Tuesday.

St. Petersburg, June 1.—The government is making every effort to expedite the dispatch of artillery reinforcements to the front. Ordnance material on the way is given precedence over all other traffic, including passengers. In a letter from Kainsk, West Siberia, the representative of a commercial house says that the Siberian express whereby he was traveling was delayed to permit the passage of three full train loads of field artillery.

London, June 1.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at New Chwang says: "Some Chinese fugitives from Port Arthur arrived here describe the situation of the inhabitants there as desperate. Famine prices exist. The cost of provisions increase weekly. Many persons are reduced to eating Chinese food and eved that is dear. Millet flour costs $6 a bag. Whole streets and several public buildings have been wrecked by Japanese shell fire. The hospitals are packed with sick and wounded."

They came to Junction City and paraded on the streets in defiance of the non-commissioned officers who were sent to take them back to the post. A detail of men was sent from the post to assist in the capture of the mutineers. With the aid of the local police officers all but four of the mutineers are in custody. Only seven of the men resisted the police and it is probable that they will be charged with mutiny when they go before a court-martial for trial.

Call For Democratic Mass Convention.

Pursuant to the call of the Democratic State Central Committee, the Democrats of Mason County are notified to meet in mass convention at the court house, Maysville, at 2 o'clock p. m., Saturday, June 4th, 1904, to select delegates to the State convention in Louisville Wednesday, June 8th, 1904, which latter convention will choose delegates to the National convention.

J. R. ROBERSON,
 Chairman Mason County Executive Committee.

KENTUCKY has 305 rural mail delivery routes. If it hadn't been for certain Maysville and Mason County Republicans six more routes would have been added to the above list some months ago.

If the Democrats of Kentucky want a united party, run on purely Democratic principles, they will attend the mass meetings next Saturday and see that Kehoe delegates are elected to attend the State convention in Louisville June 8th.

SOME of the "hustling" city newspapers are a bit modest; they were content to say that the building begun here by the Continental people—and which hasn't begun at all—was to be one-story high and 350x400 feet in extent. But it remained for the Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune to put on the cap sheaf with a two-story building; and the wonder is that the "enthusiastic" correspondent did not make it a thirty-six story skyscraper while he was about it. Such reports as these ought to discredit the papers that print them.—Public Ledger.

Well, they were not much further off in their statements than the Ledger was in what it said on the subject last Monday. The company that contemplates erecting the big plant in the East End has not been organized yet, although the Ledger created the impression Monday that it was all settled. The real status of affairs is given in another column.

GEORGE B. COX, the erstwhile ward leader at Cincinnati, has developed into the Republican boss not only of the Queen City but of the Buckeye State. At the recent Republican State convention at Columbus he not only decided that Senator Foraker should be on the "Big Four," but also for the first time secured a position in that delegation for himself. Four years ago, at Philadelphia, he was chosen a member of the National Committee, but so great was the opposition to him that in less than a month he resigned. Since then Cox has become a bank President and has acquired an interest in big financial enterprises in Cincinnati. Not only was he selected as a delegate-at-large, but in the list he was named immediately after the Governor and before either Senator Foraker or Senator Dick, as a "leader who places party above personality and party success above selfish ends." What a drop from such men as John Sherman!

Items of Interest From Nearby Towns and Villages Contributed by the Bulletin's Corps of Correspondents.

ORANGEBURG, May 30th.—Messrs. D. G. Wilson, Joseph Bramel and Pierce Bramel went to Portsmouth, Ohio, Sunday, returning the same day. Many citizens took advantage of the excursion to the Z to a Cincinnati, Saturday.

George Sedden is making many improvements to his farm house, new additions, painting &c. A fine rain fell Sunday evening and Monday morning making a nice tobacco, cabbage and tomato plant season which was taken advantage of by many.

Mrs. Mattie Roe has returned from a visit at Helena.

D. Grant and "Dumpy" Cooper, his cousin, passed through "burg" Sunday morning going to the Children's Day exercises at Mt. Olivet Church. They returned home Monday morning. Our blacksmith, Boone Phillips, has gone away on a trip and his brother Clarence has returned from Cincinnati to work in the shop.

Two ferrets are at large in the village but don't seem to bother anything but the rats, which are conspicuous by their absence.

An old pioneer citizen has a lot of hams and shoulders hanging up in his smoke-house encased in paper bags. On investigating one day recently he found three pieces missing, and that many sacks empty, although blown up and tied so as to resemble the others. Unless subjected to a minute inspection the loss would not have been discovered for some time. To say that the owner felt like blowing up somebody would be stating the case very mildly indeed.

Orangenburg has been enjoying a May musical festival the past week. "Happy Jack," a well known colored banjoist, has been here nearly all week giving nightly concerts at the stores. Saturday evening a musicale was given at Clarence Calvert's by local talent which was largely attended and very enjoyable. "Happy Jack" was at the other end of town and the feast of music caused a flow of sole from one place to the other by persons who were anxious to hear all that was going on.

Charles Calvert was an active participant in a fire scene one evening this week. Having taken his after-supper smoke he knocked, as he thought, all the fire out of his pipe and put it in his vest pocket. As he was about to retire he smelled smoke and going from room to room in a vain endeavor to locate it, at last ending with the attic, he finally concluded from the developments in each room the whole house was smoldering. In the act of drawing off his vest before rushing forth to alarm the neighbors a puff of smoke flew up in his face and the fire was located in his vest pocket.

A. C. Pollitt and wife went to Middleshoro today to make a two weeks visit to his brother, G. F. Pollitt. Frank is a Mason County man.

Bert Pollitt has returned from Winchester College. He took the Clark County examination and the Winchester Democrat says in a class of eighteen eleven failed, only three got first-class certificates. Bert getting the highest grade of any, so we are glad for our Mason County boy.

Jas. Thomas, an old-time resident of Mason County, but who had spent his last years in Lewis, died Monday evening at 6 o'clock. Burial to-morrow at 12 o'clock in Olivet Cemetery.

The community at large are indebted to Mrs. Minnie Dickson, Miss Della Goodwin and our very efficient Sunday School Superintendent W. S. ANOTHER FEATHER IN OUR HAT.

When we moved to Maysville three years ago we were told that the reason Maysville could not sell lots of dry goods and nice goods that most everybody in town did their shopping in Cincinnati (from the stocks that were carried here then we could not blame them). Then the merchants of Maysville use to line up on Market street every night when the 8 o'clock train arrived to see the people pass by with their arms full of packages. We knew the remedy and applied it. The best stock in Northern Kentucky is here and Maysville's trade is with us,—in fact it's a rare sight to see a lady with a package from Cincinnati. The C. and O. R. R. has bowed its head in defeat. We have inside information that after June 5th there will be no more 8 o'clock train. ALL HAIL MERZ BROS., Maysville's greatest institution.

A MUSICAL TREAT.

Misses Barbour and Wadsworth Gave a Most Charming Entertainment Last Evening.

To possess a talent is a blessing. To have that talent brought to a state of perfection through intelligent training is to make one master of it. Leahman says: "Have music in the home; let it be in the atmosphere one breathes, this makes musicians."

Miss Elizabeth Barbour has been reared in an atmosphere where music was a part of the daily life. From the start her teachers have been capable ones. Recently she has studied in Chicago—at the Bush Temple of Music—and last night her hearers found her touch had taken on a new tone; with even greater sparkle did she play, throughout the entire programme playing with taste and certainly unraveling the theme of each composition so artistically that the story thereof was made very real to those who heard her. When one considers her youth and the mark she has reached, they realize that in time she will in every sense be held as an artist.

Miss Wadsworth was in fine voice. Her selections were charming and she sang exquisitely. Her numbers lent a pleasing variety to the program and she was warmly applauded.

Extensive improvements will be made at the Maysville Cotton Mills this summer. About $10,000 worth of new machinery will be put in.

Poyntz Bros. are the only Maysville distillers selling pure liquors by the quart, gallon or barrel, direct from distillery to consumer. Seven-year-old whiskey $2 per gallon. Age and quality guaranteed. Get the best. Office 128 Market street—Watson's old stand.

THE FAKE FOOTRACE.
Supreme Court Reverses the Cases of Boatright, Ellis and Brumley.

Jefferson City, Mo., June 1.—The Missouri supreme court Tuesday reversed and remanded the cases of Robert Boatwright, E. E. Ellis and B. Brumley, who were convicted in Lawrence county of getting money on a fake footrace at Webb City and sentenced each to three years in the penitentiary. The opinion holds that improper evidence was admitted at the trial. The amount secured in the alleged fake footraces is estimated at $50,000 to $150,000. Robert Boatwright, the leader of the scheme, died last Wednesday at Kansas City.

Whiskey and Beer Habit

PERMANENTLY CURED BY
"ORRINE,"

A SAFE, SURE AND HARMLESS SPECIFIC

Physicians pronounce drunkenness a disease of the nervous system, creating a morbid craving for a stimulant. Continued indulgence in whiskey, beer or wine eats away the stomach lining and stupefies the digestive organs, thus destroying the digestion and ruining the health. No "will power" can heal the inflamed stomach membranes. "ORRINE" permanently removes the craving for liquor by acting directly on the affected nerves, restoring the stomach and digestive organs to normal conditions, improving the appetite and restoring the health. No sanitarium treatment necessary; "ORRINE" can be taken at your own home without publicity. Can be given secretly if desired.

CURE GUARANTEED OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Mrs. E. Wycliff, New York City, writes: "ORRINE" cured my husband, who was a steady drunkard for many years. He now has no desire for stimulants, his health is good and he is fully restored to manhood. He used only five boxes of 'ORRINE'."

Mrs. W. L. D., Helena, Mont., writes: "I have waited one year before writing you of the permanent cure of my son. He took sanitarium treatment, as well as other advertised cures, but they all failed until we gave him 'ORRINE'. He is now fully restored to health and has no desire for drink."

Mr. A. E. L., Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I was born with a love of whiskey and drank it for thirty-two years. It finally brought me to the gutter, homeless and friendless. I was powerless to resist the craving and would steal and lie to get whiskey. Four boxes of 'ORRINE' cured me of all desire and I now have the smell of liquor."

Price $1 per box. Mailed in plain, sealed wrapper by Orrine Company, 817 14th St., Washington, D. C. Interesting book—Treatise on Drunkenness, (sealed, free on request. Sold and recommended by

CONFEDERATE MEMORIAL.

The Dr. Basil C. Duke Chapter Will Hold Services Next Friday at Grave of Tom Hunt.

The Dr. Basil C. Duke Chapter, U. D. O., will celebrate its Memorial Day exercises on Friday, June 3rd, at 10:30 a. m. with very simple services, conducted by Rev. Dr. C. F. Evans at the grave of the noble young Confederate soldier Tom Hunt, who was shot by order of Burbridge in November, 1864. A neat headstone has been erected by this chapter to Tom Hunt.

All members of the Chapter are urged to be present and all veterans and all friends of the cause are invited to attend.

The open meeting of the Literary Society of the Third Street M. E. Church last evening proved a most delightfully enjoyable affair. The occasion was the closing session for the summer. Quite a number of invited guests were present. The room was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants. The address of the evening was delivered by Mrs. Nave, wife of Chaplain Nave of Ft. Thomas. Mr. and Mrs. Nave spent some time in the Philippines, and her description of the people, their dress and customs, and the work of missionaries in the islands was highly interesting. Mrs. Nave is a fluent and graceful speaker and all enjoyed her address very much. At the close of her talk, delicious refreshments were served. The evening was one of enjoyment for all present.
